Council Committee Agrees on a Recommendation, board of public works that the Fernstrom sidewalks extension resolution should be amended to read 50 instead of 75 per cent. A report to that effect will be made to the council.

The following communication, in part, was received from the board by the committee. It cites the Fernstrom resolution, which is to the effect that no sidewalk extension shall be ordered done until 75 per cent of the assessment has been collected. Continuing, the communication says:

At the present time there are a large mumber of these special improvements on which special assessments have been levied, but a large percentage of the abutting property owners fail to pay in their proportion of said taxes until compelled to do so, on the ground that they wish to see some visible indications on the ground that said improvements will be made without long delay.

Another class of owners do not desire any improvements and will not pay until compelled to do so by law, while still another and much smaller class pay their assessment at once and are therefore continually complaining that the work for which they have paid is not done.

The practical working of the resolution referred to is, in our judgment, to retard unreasonably all of these improvements, to the great detriment of the abutting property owners, as well as to the great injury of the city, and we therefore suggest that the said resolution be rescinded and this board be empowered to order the contractor to proceed at once with the work on any such improvement as

Opinion of City Attorney.

The following letter of Assistant City. Attorney Bramel to Mayor Morris speaks for itself:

the least. (While I was writing this a messenger same in with seven passes for the city attorney).

But, notwithstanding all these reasons for vetoing the measure in your hands, this fact remains to be considered. If the performance is not allowed to take place, the administration will have another Coxey's army on its hands.

As a matter of law and equity, the action of the council should be vetoed, but as a matter of good business, the aggregation should be allowed to give its performance in order that it may secure funds to move on to the next town. Very respectfully,

City Attorney.
